FUND INVESTMENT STRATEGY

Rock Oak Core Growth Fund is a more diversified Oak Fund and will normally invest in 35 to 50 stocks. The Fund invests primarily in common stocks of established U.S. companies with mid and large market capitalizations. The manager utilizes a combined approach of “top-down” analysis and “bottom-up” stock selection. The “top-down” approach takes into consideration long-term investment themes, such as globalization, demographics, productivity and innovation. As a result of the “top-down” analysis, the manager identifies sectors, industries and companies which are believed to benefit from the overall themes observed. As part of the “bottom-up” stock selection, the investment process involves looking for individual companies with earnings growth potential that should exceed the earnings growth rate of the overall market over the long-term, and that may not be fully recognized by the market at large. The manager evaluates a number of different attributes, including the company’s specific market expertise or dominance, its competitive durability and pricing power, solid fundamentals, strong and ethical management, apparent commitment to shareholder interests, earnings growth rates that exceed those of the overall market and what the manager believes to be above-average growth potential with sustainable competitive advantage.
